N. Rioux Jordan

Associate

---

Rioux Jordan, a Colorado native, focuses his practice on complicated construction matters, representing clients spanning developers, general contractors, and subcontractors of all sizes. This work includes defending against construction defect claims, general liability claims, breach of contract claims, and personal injury claims.

Mr. Jordan is licensed to practice law in state and federal courts of Colorado. He earned his Juris Doctor (J.D.) from the University of Denver, Sturm College of Law. While attending, Mr. Jordan interned with Colorado District Court Judge David Prince. He further developed his litigation skills by working at one of the University of Denver's student law clinics, which are ranked in the top ten nationally for clinical training. Prior to law school, Mr. Jordan earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science with a minor in English from Colorado State University, where he graduated cum laude as a university honors scholar.

When he is not in the office, Mr. Jordan spends time with his family, takes advantage of Colorado's wonderful outdoors, and engages in creative endeavors from writing to woodworking.
